Dear Jesup Community School Parents and Families,

Happy Friday everyone! Just a few updates and reminders to share with you this week. First of all, our Facility Advisory Committee has begun the process of collecting signatures for a petition to call a special election to consider a general obligation bond for our phase II and III projects (Career and Technical Education expansion, auditorium, secure entries, ADA improvements, additional classrooms, and more). We are excited to continue to move forward on what are greatly needed improvements to our facilities. Signing the petition is not a commitment on how you will vote, but it is rather just support in calling an election.

This coming Monday night at 7 p.m. in the South Gym, we will be hosting a community/parent presentation by Joe Beckman. Joe has been visiting area schools this week presenting to students and will be here all day Tuesday to meet with our students. Monday night will be a community/parent presentation for not only us in Jesup, but for all parents and community members in the schools where Joe has presented this past week. Joe is a high energy and highly entertaining speaker with a great message on the importance of human connection, resiliency, and kindness. We strongly encourage you to join us on Monday night!

That is all for now and we wish you a very happy and enjoyable Thanksgiving break next week. If at any time you have questions or concerns, please reach out through email, phone, or stopping by my office. Have a great week! #jhawkproud

Thank you and take care,

Nathan
